

Julie Andrews

Julie Andrews lives and works as an artist in Castlemaine with a studio practice which encompasses painting, drawing, ceramics and public art. In all her work the concept and the site drive her ideas. Often exploring liminal spaces, she responds directly to the surrounding environment and everyday experiences.

Julie's practice encompasses studio and public participatory works. As a studio artist she creates semi-abstract landscape oil paintings on canvas as documentation of feelings experienced and memories formed through travelling in the landscape.

Julie lives and works as an artist in Castlemaine, Central Victoria, and received her Bachelor of Visual Arts at Latrobe University, Bendigo and completed a Master of Arts (Art in Public Space) with HD at RMIT 2014.

She has also completed a Master of Analytical Psychology, with Distinction, from the University of Western Sydney 2009.

Julie has undertaken residencies, public and private commissions and has held over 15 solo exhibitions and participated in over 40 group shows; held in various locations in Australia, England, China and Singapore where her work is held in private collections.
